

MHRA bibliography: quick crib sheet

These references are formatted as they would appear in the bibliography, rather than as footnotes.

The bibliography should be arranged alphabetically, by surname of the author. If there is more than one work by the same author, the author's name should be substituted by a dash after the first appearance, and these items should then be arranged in alphabetical order of title.

Separate entries should be listed for different chapters in the same edited book. Anonymous works are listed alphabetically by their title.

Items in a bibliography don't end in a full stop.
